

STOCKS

A further decline in Tonopah Merger and its recovery in an encouraging degree toward the close of the day were practically the only developments of note of an otherwise featureless and sluggish market today. Tonopah Merger opened the day in a weakened condition and sold around $1.74 points below its selling close price of yesterday. Several small lots of the issue were thrown on the market immediately following the opening and it went as low as 98 cents in the transactions. The demand for the stock then increased and its price went to $1.05 at the close. Goldfield Merger Mines also continued to evidence weakness, with a further slight decline in price.

The following are the closing stock quotations, and the record of the day's sales, as received from the San Francisco stock exchange this afternoon by Broker H. E. Epstein:

TEX WATSON IS NOW TRAVELING WITH CRUTCHES

RAPIDLY RECOVERING USE OF
LIMB INJURED WHILE WORK-ING AT GOLDEN ARROW

Tex Watson, who was injured at Golden Arrow about two months ago when he received a fractured leg, has so far recovered as to be able to navigate with the aid of crutches. At the time he was injured it was thought that amputation of the injured limb would be necessary subsequent developments were favorable and Dr. Cowden was able to save the patient the ordeal of undergoing the operation.

Mr. Watson is slowly regaining the use of the fractured limb and it is believed that a complete recovery will only be a matter of time.

Tonopah's Greatest BARGAIN CENTER...

---A Store of Quality for All Classes of People

It is not unnatural for us, in the face of such expressions as above, to feel as though we have struck a stride that can only be halted by an exhaustion of goods. It is only natural for us to take a firmer hold on the situation given to us by the people, and there is but one thing for us to do—continue to carry our high-grade merchandise and sell it at everlastingly the lowest price.

Too much cannot be said about the beauty of these famous direct from New York Suits and Coats. They stand the wear and the weather, something worth your thought before you buy. You have seen these suits and coats that fade and wrinkle? Well, our guarantee stands back of our stock—not a jobber's. Lower than New York prices.

SMALL FORTUNE IN CUT GLASS IS NOW ON DISPLAY

LARGEST CONSIGNMENT OF GLASS EVER RECEIVED IS BOUGHT BY DOBROWSKY

One of the largest consignments of cut glass ever received in Tonopah is now on display at Dobrowsky's jewelry store on Main street.

The shipment was received yesterday, having been ordered by Mr. Dobrowsky on his recent visit to San Francisco.

The cut glass ware is of the Libby brand, recognized as the standard of quality, and consists of articles of every size and description. The display window has been decorated with various articles of the glass ware and has attracted considerable attention from passersby. The shipment was received for the holiday trade but from the manner in which numerous sales have already been made it is doubtful if many of the articles will remain on the shelves until the time when the holiday shoppers start making purchases.

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

Readers of a scientific turn of mind will be interested to know that the Tonopah public library has added to its technical department Clenden's Cyanide Handbook and Kent's Mechanical Engineers' Handbook. A book bearing the title of the "American Government" is missing from the library and the person holding it is requested by the librarian to return it without further delay.

L. F. Adamson of Carson City, state bullion tax collector, arrived in Tonopah this morning and will spend several days in camp on official business.
